- 4 a Distant relatives
b Husband and wife
c Close friends since childhood
d Neighbours
e Husband and wife
f Lovers
- 5 a He feels restless in the dull Middle West. He goes to the east coast to learn the bond business.
b Jordan is a well-known golf player, and Nick has seen her photograph in newspapers and magazines.
c He wants to see 'his girl', Mrs Myrtle Wilson, and arrange to meet her. d Because she believes she has a right to say Daisy's name over and over again.

6 Possible answers:

Nick says:

- a It seemed like the rough edge of the world.
b They make up a strange society. West Egg is less fashionable.
c It's small and ugly, but with a view of the water and part of Gatsby's lawn. The rent is reasonable.
d He is very wealthy; has a very powerful, cruel body; is restless; has a scornful manner, a rough speaking voice and a bad temper; was hated by many at university; is proud of his house; is uninterested in books and ideas but supports the ideas in a book that says white people are better than other people; doesn't care if everyone knows about his girlfriend; gives Myrtle orders and hits her when she upsets him.
e She has an exciting voice, is interested in news about herself, says the first thing that comes into her head, feels hopeless, seems insincere.
f It is surprisingly large and grand.
g She takes no notice of Nick; seems lazy and rude; has a tired voice; is interested in the scandal that surrounds Tom and Daisy.
h He is a pale, miserable, spiritless man.
i She is not beautiful but with an animal life force that makes her attractive; she is bold because she has an affair with Tom and doesn't always do what he tells her to do.

d very fast

e a clever criminal

f upset

g unsure

h be near Daisy Buchanan

- 11 a The air becomes alive with talk and laughter, people dance, voices become higher and louder, laughter is easier minute by minute. The fat, middle-aged man is amazed that the books in the library are real.
b After two glasses of champagne, Nick begins to enjoy himself. The scene at the party changed before his eyes into something deep and meaningful.
c Jay Gatsby doesn't drink alcohol at his parties.
d Daisy doesn't drink. Jordan notes that it's a great advantage not to drink among hard-drinking people.

12 Possible answers:

- a Jordan Baker says she wasn't responsible for the fact that a car she borrowed got wet in the rain, but she was responsible. She also cheats in a golf match by illegally moving her ball in order to win.
b Nick writes weekly letters to the girl back home, therefore encouraging her to believe that she is still his girlfriend. But he seems interested in Jordan Baker at this time.
c Gatsby only wants to make friends with Jordan and Nick because they can get him in contact with Daisy. From Nick's reaction and from the way he tells his stories, we get a clear impression that Gatsby is making up, or at least exaggerating, the facts about his past.
d Gatsby tells Nick that Wolfsheimer is responsible for the scandal but is too clever to be caught.
e Daisy is obviously not happy about marrying Tom on the night before her wedding. She has a letter that has upset her and she drinks a bottle of wine although she is a non-drinker.
f Tom Buchanan is a dishonest husband because he has relationships with other women.
- 13 a Jay Gatsby, because he hasn't introduced himself to Nick Carraway.
b Jordan Baker, to excuse her own carelessness.
c A policeman, because Gatsby has given him a reason to excuse him from a speeding ticket.
d Daisy before her wedding to Tom, because she is drunk and doesn't want to marry him.

- 32 a He feels angry, and half in love with her, and enormously sorry. At the same time, he doubts that the story of her engagement is true, and he does not seem to regret that their friendship is coming to an end.
- b Nick seems amazed when Daisy and Tom leave Long Island without saying anything to anyone, especially because he knows that Daisy is responsible for Myrtle Wilson's death. As he says to Gatsby, 'They're no good, any of them!', referring to the Buchanans and their fashionable friends. He finds it unbelievable that Tom told George Wilson that Gatsby killed Myrtle.
- 33 The Dutch sailors, when they reached the new world, and Gatsby, when he moved to West Egg, faced a new world, full of promise. The green trees are a sign of a bright future for the sailors and the green light at the end of Daisy's sea wall is a sign of hope for Gatsby. Both the sailors and Gatsby have a short, magic moment when they think that their dreams will come true.
