

ARCHAEOSUBS

1 Listen and match. 157

- 1 Archaeologists study the remains of buildings, statues, vases, handmade objects to investigate history in ancient time.
- 2 Ancient remains usually are deep down in the soil and archaeologists have to work very slowly and patiently, digging to find them!
- 3 Sometimes historical remains are at the bottom of the sea: they can be old ships with precious objects.
- 4 When archaeologists have to work in water they need special equipment: oxygen tanks and wet suits. They are archaeosubs!

2 Complete the picture! You are an archaeosub: draw your face and your precious remains in the water.
